1.[組合題]The Olympic Games

The Olympic Games are one of the biggest sports events in the world. They are held every four years, bringing together athletes from many countries to compete in various sports. The Olympics are divided into two main events: the Summer Olympics and the Winter Olympics.

The Summer Olympics feature sports that are typically played in warmer weather. Some popular sports include swimming, running, basketball, gymnastics, and soccer. The Summer Olympics also have events like cycling, tennis, and volleyball. These games are usually held in big stadiums and arenas, and they attract a lot of viewers from around the world.

The Winter Olympics, on the other hand, feature sports that are best played in cold weather. These include skiing, ice skating, snowboarding, and ice hockey. The Winter Olympics also have events like bobsledding and curling. These games are held in places with lots of snow and ice, like mountains and ice rinks.

The Olympics are not just about sports. They are also about bringing people together. Athletes from different countries meet and make new friends. The Olympics promote peace and understanding between nations. The games also inspire young people to try new sports and follow their dreams.

Every Olympics has a special opening ceremony, where athletes from all the participating countries march in a parade. There is also a closing ceremony at the end of the games, celebrating the achievements of all the athletes. The Olympic flame, which is lit at the beginning of the games, is a symbol of the Olympic spirit. It burns throughout the games and is extinguished at the closing ceremony.

1.[組合題]A Day at the Zoo

Yesterday, Sarah and her family visited the city zoo. It was a bright and sunny day, perfect for exploring. The zoo was very large, with many different sections for various animals. They started their visit in the jungle section, where they saw monkeys swinging from trees and colorful parrots chirping loudly. Sarah was especially excited to see the lions, as they are her favorite animals. The lions were resting under a big tree, looking very majestic.

Next, they went to the reptile house. It was dark and cool inside. Sarah saw snakes, lizards, and even a large alligator. She thought the snakes were a bit scary but very interesting. Her brother, Tom, liked the turtles the most because they moved so slowly and looked so wise.

After the reptile house, they visited the aquarium. The underwater tunnel was amazing! They saw sharks, stingrays, and many colorful fish swimming all around them. Sarah felt like she was inside the ocean.

For lunch, they ate at a picnic area near the children's zoo. Here, Sarah and Tom could pet and feed goats, sheep, and rabbits. They had a lot of fun playing with the animals. Before they left, they bought some souvenirs from the gift shop. Sarah chose a stuffed lion, and Tom picked a turtle keychain.

It was a fantastic day at the zoo, and Sarah couldn't wait to tell her friends about all the animals she saw.
